TO WHOM IT MAY CONCERN

Reference: James Scott

Mr Scott studied the Australian ATPL theory through classroom sessions conducted by me in association with Moorabbin Flying School in Melbourne during September to November 2016.

I found James to be very hard working, dedicated, and focused on the task at hand. He quickly assimilated new and often complex information, and made few errors. Those he made he did not repeat. He planned his study regime well, was very popular, and held in high regard by his classmates. He rarely needed to seek clarification of any material presented, but was not afraid to do so when required.

James has an inquiring mind, wishing to understand each topic to its fullest extent, possessing a "first time right" attitude. He is an engaging person, with an excellent sense of humour, proved to be a good team player and was a joy to teach.

His efforts were rewarded with well deserved passes in the seven ATPL subjects that I provided training for.

References such as this are reserved for the top 10% of students that I have trained over the past twenty five years. James Scott belongs deservedly near the top of this bracket.

I take pleasure in recommending James to you, in the sound belief that he will meet or exceed any expectations required of a flight crew employee.

Yours faithfully
